

How to Pay the CRA

1. Pay by mail. Include your social insurance number and year of payment in the description box of your cheque, and mail to:
Canada Revenue Agency, PO Box 14001, Station Main,
Winnipeg, MB, RC3 3M3
2. Pay at your bank. Banks will usually request a T7DR, a payment form (remittance voucher). You can request this form from the CRA (1-800-959-8281) or our office (780-453-6700).
3. Pay on-line through your bank. Under “Add a payee” look for an option such as CRA. Enter your social insurance number as your CRA account number.
4. Pay through Revenue Canada’s site. This entails giving the CRA your personal banking information. We advise against this method of payment.
5. Prior to us electronically filing your return, we can arrange for your payment to be taken directly out of your account on that day. We also advise against this method of payment.

If you have significant balances owing, you may wish to increase withholdings at source to avoid the requirement for quarterly payments or large payments upon filing your return.

Remember, if the CRA calls looking for payment in gift cards or crypto currencies or are belligerent consider it a scam and call 1-800-959-8281 to report it.
